“ I firmly believe that God sent us a profound message, reassuring us that you're basking in eternal peace and harmony with our Lord. The other morning, Scarlett and I were blessed with a visit from a majestic 'Mourning Dove', its beauty left us in awe. It perched on the wire for minutes, watching over us, filling the air with its enchanting melody. We love and miss you dearly Patty. 🕊️✨🙏🏻

“ Thank you Pat for always being like a 2nd mom to me & welcoming me into your home & family as a teenager. Thank you for being one of the reasons me & your daughter got together. I'll always miss smoking cigarettes with you on the porch while Tricia was at school & I was skipping school. And you telling me to go pick up more cigarettes & your medicine at CVS. I love you Mom.

“ Mom,
I remember how you always loved saying your Rosaries on your angel porch/sunroom & how you had so many beautiful sets of rosary beads. And how much love you had for the Blessed Mother, Jesus & God.
Love, Tricia

“ Dear Mommy, ☐❤

I love you so much Mom & I will miss you forever! I will always remember how much I admired how beautiful you were inside & out. And how you always welcomed everyone into our lives & home with open arms, love & care. And how you treated everyone so kindly & were like a second Mom to many especially Anthony, who loved you very much & viewed you as a second Mom. You are & were absolutely gorgeous & I always admired how generous your heart & soul were. I am so proud to be your daughter & I wish I had a longer time with you. I will always remember as a teenager how you & me became really close & how we used to go get our hair & nails done together, which I'll never forget & will always cherish those memories because I miss it so much.

Thank you for always worrying about me, loving me, taking great care of me & my brother Michael growing up. And for always calling & making sure me & your beautiful granddaughter, Victoria, were always alright. Me, Daddy, Michael, Anthony, Kristin, Victoria & Scarlett will all miss you dearly.

I'll especially miss getting you Starbucks & making you coffee at home & drinking coffee with you at the kitchen table, even though I swore I would never like coffee, I eventually did. Thank you for always being there for us & cheering us up with the funny things you would say.

I know you are probably up in Heaven right now laughing, gossiping & having a great time smoking your cigarettes & drinking your million cups of coffee with your sister, Aunt Margie.

I know it & I can feel it in my heart & soul that you passed peacefully. I will forever miss you, but it brings me comfort & puts me at ease knowing that you are no longer suffering or in any pain anymore & that you are finally at peace. Please watch over me, Victoria, Anthony, Daddy, Michael, Kristin, Scarlett & all of your family & friends until we get there. I love you Mommy!

-Love Always,
Tricia

“ I can't believe this day has come. A day where I am actually saying goodbye to my mother-in-law. While I know she's finally at peace and no longer suffering here on earth, it doesn't make the grief any easier. Patty found joy in the simplest things — planting flowers (back in the day), sipping her coffee, and watching Law & Order like it was part of her daily ritual. Some of my sweetest memories are of wheeling her to appointments, talking and laughing the whole way. It was never anything extravagant — just time spent together, sharing stories and finding humor in the ordinary. She wasn't just my mother-in-law; she became someone I truly cared for. And I'll forever be grateful for the laughter, the conversations, and the quiet moments we shared. ❤️

Thanks Tricia. I love you too. 💕

I'll always cherish the memories we made together. Especially the moments where it was just the three of us sitting around the kitchen table hearing her stories and laughing. 🕊☐🙏 those memories will forever be cherished. 💕

Still feels so surreal. 😔
