“Sonny My Brother, This is so hard for me to comprehend this whole situation it does not feel like it's real I really don't want it to be real I believe in my heart heart as long as I believe that it's not real you're going to be here but I know it's not the way it's been I'm only being selfish did you see we are so close in our ages when we were little what were we 12 months apart I mean you popped out and mommy got pregnant with me I popped out and mommy got pregnant with Lisa I mean from Ricky down so we weren't just brothers and sisters we were like twins we had that bonds like twins have you know we were always together whether it be in mischief or happiness or sadness whatever it was we were always together we got in trouble together we laugh together we just did everything together we even went to school together and I know I'm saying a lot right now but I just got to see what comes in my head as I speak you we're always my protector in school OMG oh boy couldn't even look at me the wrong way right away you would be up front and personal in their face like leave her alone and the poor boy didn't even do anything and then the top of all of it I thought the boy was cute and I liked him you made it so hard for me you ruin my teenage love life just want you to know that then you had a few friends that I thought were cute and right from the store 10 it was hands off don't talk that's it hi goodbye no more and I used to get so mad at you but now as I got older I realize why those friends were not too too good you know they got themselves in trouble and they just weren't for me and I know that you knew that and I know that you wanted the best for me but that being said I don't know how to go on with that you without me having my brother although we didn't see much of each other as we got older months ago by and we didn't see each other or talk to each other but knowing that you were there knowing when I really truly needed you I just had to reach out and you'd be there as you have been can no longer have that that feeling of you being braided hands length it scares me it scares me to think that my brother my buddy my friend whatever you want to call it it's not there anymore yeah used to yell at me sometimes when I used to get on your nerves you always were so Stern with that voice that deep voice but I respect it so I cut it out when you got deep like that but I don't care”

how Stern how deep your voice gets as I can just hear you speak one more time OMG it would mean so much to me because I'm never going to hear those words come from your mouth again and that's a lonely feeling so lonely that my heart aches I just don't know what to do there's so much I want to talk to you about I just don't know what was going on with you at the end I heard a couple little things about the doctors and stuff but I don't know so funny because you're a hard-headed you're always hard you did what you wanted to do and that was it no matter how much somebody tried to tell you what did you you had to do it your way and that was it but that's what I loved about you the most and you were who you were you know who you were and nobody could change that and you were proud of it just like I was proud of you being Who You Are I don't know how long I have down here I might have a year 2 years 3 years 4 years I might have 15 minutes I don't know but all I know is that my world is totally turned upside down right now every once in awhile I'll sit here and I'll stay to myself no no it can't be my brother is not here anymore no way this can't be true Sunny you're not here no more like just those words make me feel so empty and I'm having a hard time I'll be honest I'm having a hard time actually written that you're not here anymore if I could change one thing right now it would be the time that we kept apart these last couple of years since you moved out in the sticks I want to call it LOL from that once you moved out of South Philly it kind of dwindled off you became a different person you were like more sheltered more secluded and more to yourself you know when you used to be open and I'm going and like you always have people at your house and I used to think that you were not used to being in the suburbs you know being in South Philly is a lot different and it kind of took a little bit from you and you weren't using not seeing people in and out every day and every night you know at all times of the day you know because you never knew who was coming in and out with your family who was coming in to eat he was coming into the s he was coming to sleep he was coming to cry whatever the situation was that's how you should be then all of a sudden you moved away and just stopped and we became a little distant those days I wish never happened I wish you would have stayed in contact a little bit more because I feel like those years that went by what time did we could have more memories I'll never have enough memories of you I know I have a lifetime of memories but I will take more if I could you were always made me laugh I must say I remember when the teacher used to call you little Class Clown LOL and then I remember when you used to get me in trouble because you never did nothing it was always me who did it and you got away with murder specially when it came to Mommy so I didn't do it no he didn't not my Sunny so it was Louise or it was the other one well always got in trouble but I didn't care I took the blame for you anyway cuz I would do do anything for you so here I go I'm rattling because I just wish you were right here beside me and I was talking to you face to face and right now my eyes are closed cuz it's here coming down the side of my cheek but I'm visualizing you right here with me and I just still cannot grass the fact that you are going it just won't let me accept it so it's going to be tough down here for me just going to let you know you're going to have really some love days trying to accept the fact that you're not here son so if you can do me a favor and help me out a little bit if you can just give me something just one little something please we always used to say whoever went first let me know somehow some way let me know what's up there if there's something anything drop a freaking front of me make me trip and fall just something something so extreme that I know that it has to be you so please if you can do that for me please I'm begging you let me know let me know yes through the heaven yes you saw Mommy yes usual daddy yes you know who everybody is you're happy you're content it is everything that they said it would be you may not be around to tell me because I'm supposed to be surprised when I get there but give me a little hint please I want to believe in my heart of hearts that you're up there talking to Mommy and doing all kinds of things that you couldn't do down here and not being in pain seeing the bright colors just I just don't understand I don't understand what's there for us afterwards and I would be very very unhappy to find out that there isn't anything but I do believe there is I don't know if you're sitting there drinking coffee if you're just floating I don't know if you know who mommy is if mommy knows you you want I don't know if you're in body or you're not in body I don't know anything but that's okay that's normal not supposed to know and that's what's driving me crazy I want you to live I don't want you to be dead I want you to live I want you to know that I love you I love you so much favorites but I got older I think I lost that role and you still remain her favorite funny what am I going to do without my brother when I have a conversation when I turn around I want to say something or call you and tell you something about somebody that I saw or bumped into what do I do tell me what the hell do I do what about when I can't think of something what do I do well I know I said so much and there's so much more I would like to keep going on I'm glad I had this conversation with your son there's so much more I want to say to you but I don't want to get all emotional when I'm set and crying and my eyes hurt so bad for crying you owe me two eyeliners because I broke them trying to get the eyeliner on they wouldn't go home because my eyes are so damn from wet that's okay you cheap though you won't get them you'll find the way out of it I can go on and on like I said but you okay you're not sick anymore that's a good thing I know you were suffering that s's hard son it's really really hard I know it's horrible feeling but I still don't want you to want you to go I don't want you to be in heaven I'm sorry everybody can get mad at me I want you here with me I want you here with your family and I know I'm being selfish and I'm sorry this is how I feel you're just too young to go we're just way too young my heart is broken my heart is so so broken for you I don't know how to put it back together you know a big hole for mommy going was left now that holds even bigger now well Daddy too Daddy started the whole Molly got it now you got it it's such a big hole I don't know do people survive with these big holes in their heart because I don't know and it feels really really bad it's ugly feeling I don't know Johnny I could sit here and talk all night like I said but I'm going to go I want you to rest until we meet again I I love you and I will always be thinking of you rest in peace my brother my right arm I love you please remember come to me please come to me I beg you to come to me with anything and let me know something thinking of you bye funny just bye bye-bye love you tell everybody I said hi*

My thoughts and prayers are with your family especially your children and grandchildren. Watch over them, give them signs that you're always with them. Fly high

Sonny was a good man. I've known him most of my life but haven't seen him in a long time. I'm glad he's not suffering anymore. Maybe he rest in peace. I know he's with his loved ones in heaven and I know his mother was definitely waiting for him at the heaven gate. Rest easy watch over your family. Send them signs that they know you're still there.
